

personal site

June 05 2019

Contents

1. Page 1

2. Page 2

James Bain

Computational Anthropologist

blog

Welcome!

I'm James and I am happy you stopped by! This is me (I'm the man in this photo).

I earned my PhD in Anthropology from the University of Missouri where I explored how computational linguistics and neural networks can inform us on the opinions surrounding migrant populations in the United States.

I am currently a postdoc at University of Calgary working under the supervision of Dr. Sam Yeaman where we are trying to visualize complex evolutionary phenomena...

James Bain

Computational Anthropologist

Welcome! I'm James and I am happy you stopped by! This is me (I'm the human in this photo).

